Branch 9’s Jewel
On Sunday, September 13th, Julie Waldemar’s long battle with cancer was over, but a large hole in our collective hearts opened up.

Julie (known to many of us as Jules) served the Branch in a variety of roles such as Steward, Recording Secretary, Health Benefits Representative, Route Adjustment Team Leader and she also served on numerous task forces and committees. Julie was very detail oriented and had the patience of a saint. But it was when she gave of her time and talents by volunteering that she truly shined. Whatever we needed, Julie was there. She especially loved spending time with two groups of people at Branch events, the retirees and the children of our members. Julie would help organize our Retiree Banquets making sure that everything was just so and things went smoothly, whether it was saying a kind word to retirees at the registration table or making sure that the right people had the right flowers. She worked the duck pond and helped with the kids games at Branch picnics. Pam Donato called Julie the Branch’s power shopper and the queen of the endcaps making sure there were plenty of things for the kids that were coming to the picnics. She was a veritable Pied Piper at our MDA fundraisers, organizing events for the kids to keep them content while there parents were bowling for the cure. Julie said she preferred to work behind the scenes and when it was time to be recognized, she would say it was nothing and move on to the next thing.

When I heard the news of Julie’s passing, it took my breath away. I was going to her house later that day. She wanted me to look at some paperwork.

Over the past few weeks, Julie and I had several conversations and texts because she wanted to make sure everything was in order. Julie knew her time was short, and she wanted everything double checked and organized. Organized to not only reflect her wishes but also that it was easy for those she left behind to follow after she was gone. In the days that followed as news of her death spread, many were caught unaware as to how serious Julie’s condition had become. But that was the way Julie wanted it.

Julie was an organizer, a planner and a creative soul. One of Julie’s last projects was her letter to all of us that was in the memorial service program that she created. When her sister Jacquie first showed me the program, I thought to myself, that this was so Julie.

“I loved my life. I cared about everyone and about everything I was fortunate to be involved in. My family is special and always made me feel special. My friends kept me sane and out of trouble (most of the time). But mostly my God gave me the strength to live life to the fullest and to be the caring person I was... Everyone in my life played a very important part in creating ‘me’ and I couldn’t have lived like I did without you all.”

With the loss of someone that had the caliber like Julie Waldemar, the question of how should we remember her comes up. We each have our individual memories to remember her by. Many of mine have food associated with them. Whether it was her famous cheese dip or Jacquie’s raspberry pie with raspberries from the garden or a red velvet cake from Costco or her list of food that she would have to bring back from the State Fair. She knew that happiness could be found through our stomachs. But how should we as a Branch remember Julie? In her own style, she told us that too.

“I hope to be remembered, with laughter, love and having made a difference. Like I always said “I lived ‘til I died!”

It is with these words that we, as an organization, have a call to action to carry on Julie’s legacy of ‘Making A Difference.’ Each year on the second Sunday in September, we as individuals, and as groups should give of our time and talents to Make A Difference (MAD) in the community. On that day Branch 9 members will be MAD. There will be a lot of conversations at work and at the Branch in the weeks and months ahead as we all work to come up with our own way to make a difference. The thing that we need to focus on is - will we be making a difference in other people’s lives. On that day (the 2nd Sunday of September) we will be remembering Julianna Waldemar one of Branch 9’s jewels and as we think of her, we will be fulfilling her last wish.

“... I may not be the most important person in your life... I just hope that when you hear my name... you smile and say That’s My Friend.”

With a smile on my face, I say thank you for allowing me to be your friend Julie. You will always be remembered with laughter and love and for being a friend to all of us.

The smell of corn dogs, cotton candy and the beer garden are now gone from the Minnesota State Fair grounds. But, the Branch 9 kiosk had another successful year and the fun and memories should last us well into winter! We had a fantastic turn out of both active and retired Branch 9 members who volunteered to staff our kiosk and inform the fair goers of all the current political issues that will affect America’s Post Office.

Our seasoned volunteers mentored the rookie volunteers in the fine art of “working the crowd” and “Informing the public of the real issues of the service”! It was realized very quickly that the public wanted to be part of some kind of action to insure their Postal Service survived and remained in place as is. This year we urged concerned fair goers to sign the APWU’s petition post cards “I Stand With Postal Workers”. It is an APWU campaign urging Postmaster General Megan Brennan to keep post offices open and expand lobby hours, maintain prompt mail delivery, and enhance postal services such as postal banking. Good service is crucial to maintaining a vibrant, public Postal Service that connects residents and businesses alike in all areas and provides living-wage jobs that strengthen our communities.

There were some that still think taxpayer money is used for postal operations and that the current system is wasting their money. Comments like UPS or FedEx would do a better job and do it cheaper and would be better for the country. When we informed them of the amount of packages the Postal Service delivers for these companies in our last mile system (57% of UPS and 34% of FedEx) they were amazed.

This being our 12th year at the AFL-CIO’s House of Labor, we had many fairgoers return specifically to our booth to see what we were up to this time around. Repeat “customers” are the greatest compliment to any organization. They know we’re up to something good and they want to be sure to get involved. As they would leave our booth, they thanked us over and over for the information and as always informed us of how they loved their carrier and don’t want to ever lose them or the Postal Service.

It was also fun to meet fairgoers who had never been exposed to the letter carriers “interactive” style. You could pick them out right away. They’d slow their pace as they got closer and you could almost read their minds… “these people look like they’re going to talk to me…what do they want and why”. Then once they knew some of the real facts it was followed by a big thank you and encouragement from them to keep up the great work. All of the people we talked to from all over the country were first of all amazed at the factual information that was relayed to them and very concerned about what could happen to their mail delivery. When we emphasized how important it was to contact their Congress man and relay the message of how important “THEIR POST OFFICE” is to them it was almost always followed up with the commitment to do so.

FROM MIKE AND MYSELF WE WANT TO SAY GREAT JOB AND THANK YOU TO ALL OF OUR VOLUNTEERS.
VOTE JEFF JOHNSON
FOR BRANCH 9
PRESIDENT
Hi, I’m Jeff Johnson, a candidate with honesty and integrity. I am a candidate who will fight for the rights of all union workers because when we stand together we can do powerful things. I am here to look out for all carriers, from young workers in their first week of the job looking for a wealth of information, to veteran carriers concerned with contract rules that are no longer honored, to any carrier with unexpected health or family crises, to the soon-to-be-retirees. I believe policies and procedures and contacts should be honored and that the purpose of contracts and rules and regulations are to provide a safe and stable work environment of respect and dignity.

In my 20 years of experience, I have gained a deep and thorough knowledge of the policies and procedures that govern our workplace and I have used that knowledge, at times to assist union stewards, to correct a wrong when management has broken the policies to the detriment of me or fellow workers. When rules are not adhered to and union doesn’t step in, more rules will be broken and policy goes out the window. That’s how a union loses ground becoming weak and ineffective.

I am here to support workers in situations where policies that protect carriers are not being enforced. As president, I will ensure that there will no longer be untimely grievances, which are unacceptable. I will take a genuine interest in our rank and file and I understand and appreciate the diversity that exists. I am here to look out for you.

IT’S TIME FOR JEFF! A TRUE CHAMPION FOR THE PEOPLE.

A VOTE FOR JEFF JOHNSON IS A VOTE FOR US.

LET’S PUT SOME RESPECT BACK INTO BRANCH NINE!

My name is Mike Zagaros and for the past 5 years, I have had the privilege to be your Branch President. It truly is a privilege, because you’ve allowed me to be a part of your lives and hopefully I have been able to make a difference in your lives too. I have come to you to ask for your support and your vote for President of Branch 9 for the 2016 - 2018 term.

I won’t bore you with my previous service to the Branch, because it is not about how many positions I have had that should be the reason you should vote for me. While experience is important, the deciding factor should be it is who is best equipped to make a difference into the future as we deal with the continuing evolution of both the Postal Service and the NALC.

The one thing I know is that what we do as letter carriers and the culture around us will not wait for us to catch up. Your President needs to be your advocate in a variety of forums be it on the workroom floor through the grievance/arbitration process, or the sometimes complex journeys through worker compensation, to meeting and working with our elected officials to ensure that they are aware of the impacts of proposed legislation. One of the most important duties of the President is to educate and develop the current and the next generations of leaders.

This is a formidable list, but it is what you have a right to expect in your President. I believe that I am the best candidate to represent all letter carriers into the future and I am asking for your vote as President of Branch 9.

Vote Jeff Johnson

For Branch 9 President

I've known Jeff for about 20 years during my postal career. He's shown me that he has a genuine concern for letter carriers being treated with dignity and respect at the workplace.

I spent a 33-year career helping letter carriers, two years as Executive Vice-President, 15 plus years as steward and eight years as PeerEvaluator / District Peer Coordinator. My experience has made me a good judge of people's character, that's why I am endorsing Jeff Johnson for Branch 9 President.

Carper introduces iPost Act

Fredric Rolando, President of the National Association of Letter Carriers, released the following statement regarding the bill:

NALC appreciates the tireless efforts of Senator Carper and his staff to craft a bill that will advance the process of achieving much needed postal reform. While Senator Carper’s new bill contains several provisions we cannot support and raises a number of serious concerns for letter carriers and the larger federal employee community, we believe it is a good place to begin the conversation about how to preserve and strengthen the Postal Service for the American people while protecting the legitimate interests of all the key stakeholders.

Over the past few months, NALC has been working with a coalition made up of the four major postal unions, several key mailing industry groups, and the executive leadership of the U.S. Postal Service, to develop consensus postal reform legislation.

iPost summary and analysis
Arbitration: Unfortunately, the bill includes a provision to require interest arbitrators appointed to resolve postal contract disputes to give special attention to the financial condition of the Postal Service. NALC opposes this provision since arbitrators already consider USPS finances – adding it to the law could bias arbitrators toward the positions of postal management.

Door delivery: The iPost bill includes language encouraging the conversion of door delivery access points to cluster or curbside delivery points for residential and business customers, on a voluntary basis requiring customer consent. NALC has adamantly opposed inclusion of this language and will fight for its removal.

Closures and consolidations: iPost contains language that would delay for two years from the date of enactment the closure or consolidation of any mail-processing plant or facility currently in operation, and it identifies a series of procedures USPS must follow to determine whether a plant should be slated for closure.

CCA Rights and Benefits

Relative Standing

CCAs are credited with something similar to seniority called relative standing. Relative standing is determined by the original CCA hire date in an installation. For those CCAs who were Transitional Employees (TEs) before being hired as CCAs, all time served as a TE after September 29, 2007 is added. However, time spent on a five day break is not included for purposes of calculating relative standing. Section f of the CCA General Principles found on page 134 of the National Agreement covers relative standing:

f. When hired, a CCAs relative standing in an installation is determined by his/her original CCA appointment date to the installation, using Article 41.2.B.6.(a) where applicable, and adding the time served as a city letter carrier transitional employee for appointments made after September 29, 2007 in any installation.

Relative standing is extremely important for a few reasons. First, when CCAs are converted to full-time career status, Section g of the CCA General Principles found on pages 134-135 of the National Agreement states:

g. When the Postal Service hires new city letter carrier career employees, CCA employees within the installation will be converted to full-time regular career status to fill such vacancies based on their relative standing. A CCA who does not accept the career opportunity will not lose his/her relative standing for future career opportunities.

Relative standing also comes into play when the Postal Service needs to separate a CCA due to lack of work. Section h of the CCA General Principles requires the Postal Service to separate the CCA with the least relative standing first:

h. CCA employees may be separated at any time during their term of appointment for lack of work. Separations for lack of 4 work shall be by inverse relative standing in the installation. Such separations are not grievable except where the separations are pretextual. CCAs separated for lack of work will be given preference for reappointment ahead of other CCAs with less relative standing in the installation if the need for hiring arises within 18 months of their separation.

Another situation where relative standing is important is when the Postal Service decides to not reappoint a CCA for operational reasons. In this circumstance, the CCA with the least relative standing in that installation is separated first. Section i of the CCA General Principles found on page 135 of the National Agreement covers this:

i. CCA employees are separated for 5 days between appointments. When operational circumstances indicate that reappointment for a CCA(s) is not needed and the installation employs a CCA(s) with lower relative standing, the CCA(s) will be reappointed and the CCA(s) with the lower standing in the installation will be separated instead. Such separation of a CCA(s) with the lowest relative standing is not grievable except where the separation is pretextual. These CCAs separated for lack of work during or upon completion of their term of appointment will be given a preference for reappointment ahead of other CCAs with less relative standing in the installation provided the need for hiring arises within 18 months of separation.

A CCA separated for lack of work or due to operational circumstance will be given preference for reappointment ahead of other CCAs with less relative standing in the installation if the need for hiring arises within 18 months of their separation.
